advantages awaiting them in Ayres. They were told in Marthat a vessel would be at New to take them to Rio, and arrived ednesday to find how cruelly they en wronged and robbed. The aus here have informed the Italian ador at Washington.

LAURA D. PAIR.

FRANCISCO, Nov. 22 .- A sensation particulars of an alleged plot by D. Fair, a restaurant waiter The plot was formed before the same time a woman went to his house disguised and told his wife not to leave the can out. Particulars of the matter will be concealed from the public till it has been investigated by Judge Crowley, Police Judge Dwinelli and the counsel in the case. Some people thought the waiter was insane. Mrs. Fair remains in the city. The people are much incensed against her proposition to give public lec-

New York, Nov. 22 .- Jay Gould has been arrested on a warrant issued by Judge Fancher, of the supreme court, based on an affidavit which charges him with wrongfully taking to his own use while in control of the Erie railroad $9,500,000 belonging to the Erie stockholders. The sureties on the order of arrest are Wm. Butler

Duncan and Wm. R. Traverse. At 3:40 p. m. Gould entered the sheriff's office and gave bail.

GOULD'S BAIL. Jay Gould presented himself at the sheriff's office, accompanied by Augustus Schell and Horace F. Clarke, who had consented to become sureties on his bail bond, his bail being fixed at one million dollars. Each of the bondsmen were justified whereupon Gould was released by the sheriff. The counsel for the Eric railroad, however, will object to the sureties. on the ground that they should have justified in one million each.

COL. BLOOD. Col. Blood was again arrested to-day in civil suit brought by Challis, and in default of $3,000 bail he was lodged in prison. He had just given bail in another suit when arrested.

FOUR MISSING MEN. The friends of four missing men are in communication with detectives, seeking their recovery. Nothing has been heard of the Lousville insurance agent, Geo. M. Peavy, and few think now that he is alive. diligent search for him goes on, however. MRS. FAIR AND HER LECTURE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22 .- At an early hour Mrs. Fair was to appear to lecture on "Wolves in the fold." About two thousand people congregated in front of Platt's hall, Montgomery street, and as many before her residence, Kearney street. The crowds at both places were boisterous and threatening. At 8 o'clock Mrs. Fair presented to the assembly. Reports agree | demanded of the chief of police an escott there will be no opposition to the pro- of officers to the lecture hall. The chief her to appear on the streets or at the hall and would not furnish her an escort, but sent men to keep the streets clear and preserve the peace. A carriage came for Mrs. Fair, but she kept close in her room with about a dozen friends. Crowds hooted and yelled, and men tried to force their way up stairs, but were driven back. In about two hours all was quiet.

CHICKASAW NATION. Sr. Louis, Nov. 22.-Reliable advices from the Chickasaw nation say the legislature in that nation, which has just adjourned, passed resolutions requesting President Grant to carry into effect that part of the treaty of 1866, between United States and the Choctaws and Chickasaws, which provides that when Indians desire it, lands heretofore held in common may be divided among individual members of himself and the committee appointed by the tribes. This is considered by those best informed regarding matters in the Indian territory, as the most advanced step towards civilization ever taken by any of the Indian tribes, and it is thought by a great many, that should the government not insist on any territorial organization other than that now existing, many of the other tribes will tollow the example of the Chickesaws.

ALL QUIET. Adjt. Gen. Sigel telegraphs to Gov. Brown, from Lafayette county, that everything is quiet there. The county authorities deny that there has been any necessity for outside interference, and that they are perfectly able to enforce the laws and maintain order.
